

He Is the Eye of His General—This Man in the Air

A German aeroplane flying above the battle front in Northern France. This remarkable photograph was taken by an officer who was flying above the aeroplane shown in another scout machine. The picture shows, with great distinctness, the squares and rectangles which indicate plowed and cultivated farm lands