

Guns and Games at the Front

A card game at the cannon's mouth. These German officers are enjoying themselves while awaiting an attack upon their concealed gun emplacement

Bulgarian artillery being set up in the field. The Bulgarians were equipped with French Creusot guns during the Balkan wars. It is quite probable that they are still using these powerful guns

Cartridge belts for machine guns captured from the Russians. In spite of the tremendous losses in equipment, the Russians seem always able to secure enough to recoup their losses. The Japanese are now supplying the Czar's forces with war material to renew the equipment lost in last summer's retreat
